BIOGRAPHY

Will Gale is an Associate in Margolis Edelstein's Labor & Employment group in the firm's Philadelphia Office. He represents employers in complex workplace disputes, including claims involving discrimination, retaliation, wrongful termination, breach of contract, and wage and hour violations.

Will earned his Juris Doctor from Villanova University's Charles Widger School of Law, where he served as Managing Editor of Student Works of the Villanova Environmental Law Journal, Vice President of the Phi Alpha Delta Mock Trial Team, and Board Member of the Walter A. Lucas Public Interest Fellowship Program. During law school, Will served as a judicial intern for the Honorable Kelly D. Eckel of the Delaware County Court of Common Pleas.

Prior to law school, Will worked in Washington, D.C. as a public relations professional. He also served as Deputy Press Secretary for a public interest law firm specializing in civil liberties litigation.
